

The Epiphany Corner Get Stuck on Thorn!

Volume 5 - September 2nd, 2008

ECP - MISSION AND VISION STATEMENT

It is our mission to support the “best kept secrets” of the literary world. We define the “best kept secrets” as authors and/or poets who have great stories to tell but they don’t get the recognition/attention they deserve. We desire to recognize your greatness by providing top-quality publishing services to support your literary goals.

We strive to align our goals and values with those of our authors and literary partners. In this union, it allows Epiphany Publications, LLC to make an important contribution to successful dreams becoming reality. Epiphany Corner Publications, LLC will always operate and conduct business on their five operating principles: integrity, mutual respect, passion, creativity and service.

James 2:20

OPERATING PRINCIPLES

Integrity - Steadfast adherence to honesty, reliability and fairness. ECP, LLC wants all their clients to have confidence in the service that they will receive from us.

Mutual Respect - Both ECP, LLC and their clients will feel appreciated and honored to work with each other. ECP, LLC and their clients will always be considerate of each other’s business contents, practices, decisions - most importantly each other.

Nick Quesenberry makes an explosive return to the literary scene with his new release - Thorn

It’s been a while since I’ve been able to send everyone an update on SAINT LOUIS, MO, AUGUST 31, 2008: Suppose a broken, grieving man very suddenly finds himself the prime obsession of an unknown, unstoppable killer? Jackson Thorn’s existence as he knows it is forever annihilated in a fiery new release: Thorn.

Nick Quesenberry makes an explosive return to the literary scene with this epic, action-packed novel. Connect with the remarkable life of Jackson Thorn, replete with love, heroism, intrigue, and violence. You’ll be spellbound from the raucous beginning to the unforeseeable end.

Award-winning author, Alicia Rice, says, “Thorn definitely can keep any reader interested, avid or otherwise. It left me thirsty for more. It offers a delicious brew of punishing heartbreak, blithe manipulation, blistering action, spine-tingling thrills, heart-stopping suspense—and astounding resilience. Quesenberry can cram more surprises and twists into twenty pages than many manage for an entire manuscript. Just try to predict where this book is going.”

Thorn’s odyssey is expressed via the present narrative interspersed with scintillating excerpts from the protagonist’s past. The reader learns of his passions, struggles, regrets, and feels a part of his most unquiet life.

Author Morgan Anna says, “Nick Quesenberry builds his characters with a lot of heart – warm and fuzzy, yet dark and twisted. He has a creative mind that affects all of his readers. You won’t find disappointment in these pages.”

Nick Quesenberry was born in the Appalachian mountains of southern West Virginia and southwestern VA on April 2, 1983. He currently resides in Carlisle, PA with his word processor and a vivid imagination.

Passion - ECP, LLC has boundless enthusiasm to represent and work for their clients. ECP believes in driving the literary world to recognize all the talents that lay dormant in all artists. This is the most important operating principle.

Creativity - By utilizing imagination, focusing on ingenious thinking as well as open mindedness, ECP, LLC will always assist their clients in “thinking outside the box” to get their literary works recognized in the community.

Service - ECP, LLC will service their entire client with superior expectations being met.

Aliciarice.com is now epiphanycorner.com

It has been a long and interesting road to get everything ready to unveil my publishing company to the world. Thank for supporting family members and friends. There are still things that I need to finish, but it's off to a great start.

New features to look forward to:

- ✓ Editing services
- ✓ Shopping directly through Epiphany Corner Publications and its distributors
- ✓ Up to dates news and events
- ✓ Embedded previews of new releases of the authors
- ✓ Embedded guestbook and blog spot for the authors and guest.

I hope you get a chance to take a look at the new look of the website. You can still get to it via www.aliciarice.com but it takes you directly to the new site - www.epiphanycorner.com

What's next for the Authors?

Nick – He has just completed Thorns (the sequel to Thorn). I'm almost done reading it and it's just as hot as the first one. Trust me; I'm not just saying this because I represent him. You really need to check out the first book. Right now, there's a special introductory price on the hardcover, soft cover and e-books. Once it's in bookstores, the price on it will go up. Go to the "ECP Online Bookstore" to get your copy today!

Alicia – My Poet's Soul is technically done but I want to take it through one more editing draft before I send out a newsletter saying it's ready for purchase. By that time I should be done constructing the shopping cart so folks can order it directly through the ECP Online Bookstore. I love lulu.com and all – it's been very good to me in educating me on the publishing process, but now it's time for me to cut the cord and so this on my own (with help from other resources of course).
